Washington lawmakers outraged after watchdog reports find computer system harmed nearly 150 Spokane veterans and VA leaders misled investigators

July 18, 2022 | Updated Tue., July 19, 2022 at 8:58 a.m.

The Mann-Grandstaff VA Medical Center. Federal lawmakers were angered after investigative findings determined that 150 veterans in the Spokane region have been harmed because of problems with the new Cerner electronic health records system. The report also indicates that some VA leaders in charge of training staff in the new system misled investigators during an earlier probe into problems with the Cerner system.
